No Yacht Race To-Day.

RACE SURRENDERED BY THE BRITISH YACHT.

Valkyrie Would Not Compete Because a Pilot Boat Interfered With Her.

Dropped Out After Crossing Starting Line, Leaving Defender to Sail Alone.

Isein's Proposition to Dunraven to Sail Over the Race of Last Tuesday.

NAVESINK HIGHLANDS, Sept. 12.—Both yachts crossed the starting line to-day, but there was no race. Valkyrie dropped out of the contest in less than ten minutes after the start, and Defender sailed over the course alone.

The cause of the abandonment of the race by the Briton is told in the story which follows:

At 10:35 a preliminary signal was fired and at 11:10 the preparatory signal was fired. After some little maneuvering Valkyrie not hoisting her club topsail and only setting her staysail at the last moment, the starting gun was fired at 11:30 and the yachts crossed the line as follows:

Defender..... 11:21:48

Valkyrie, however, went over the line with no club topsail and almost immediately after crossing she came around the lightship on the port tack and seemed to be out of the race. Defender, however, kept on with her spinnaker and all sail pulling grandly while Valkyrie signalled the committee boat.

It then became apparent that Lord Dunraven had carried out his expressed intention of returning to race any more in these waters as if she had kept away until the room around the starting line was large enough to suit her.

Both yachts are standing down toward the southward, the horizon of it and Valkyrie toward the southward. The Defender has lowered her spinnaker.

11:30.—The starting gun was fired at 11:30. Defender, when the gun fired, had the best position and crossed the line at 11:30:20 with her spinnaker hoisted out. Defender has now come up to the wind, but her spinnaker is still up.

Valkyrie crossed the mark at 11:30:30.

GOING IT ALONE.

Defender Skims Over the Course at High Speed.

NAVESINK HIGHLANDS, Sept. 12.—Paying no attention to the withdrawal of Valkyrie, Defender kept right on over the course, going at her best speed—flying along like a white swan before the wind, and the fleet following is her having a hard time to keep her in sight.

11:45.—Defender appears to be still straightening out, although without her spinnaker. She should turn the mark at about 1 p.m.

12:15.—Defender is now well down to the outer mark and is still moving away from the point. She is sailing along without effort was made. Rumor had it that Lord Dunraven would refuse to sail his boat again, but he was no more than a round of friends and books of the prospects for good sport on the morrow. Many of them thought it would be thoroughly sponsored by the members of the club, and the members who had seen Mr. Isein earlier in the day he gave no intimation of his proposition to sail. There were, however, other probabilities, and probably other details to be attended to, for his proposition to Lord Dunraven was not forwarded until six o'clock in the evening.

It was late at night before the Cup Committee finished its session and its determination and the offer of Mr. Isein to Lord Dunraven were accepted. It was believed that Mr. Isein had been commanded on all sides. That was the true spirit of the race, and the reason for the long delay in getting the excursion boats. After the meeting of the Cup Committee Mr. J. R. Frederick, the Regatta Committee, referred to their own action.

"The committee has decided that the overcrowding that has marked the previous race in behalf of Defender, regarding the foul claimed against Valkyrie:

"New York Yacht Club, September 11.
Dear Sirs—We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday protesting Valkyrie. We have given the matter our most careful consideration, and we find that the foul occurred through the miscalculation of the distance between the two yachts at a critical moment. Your protest is, therefore, sustained."

The racing rule that the Regatta Committee referred to in their own action.

"A yacht shall sail away out of her course so as to hinder another in tacking to leeward."

Lord Dunraven expressed himself regarding the action of the Regatta Committee as follows:

"I do not consider that Valkyrie has done anything to me as a sportsman because I have no objection to do otherwise. I believe in the ability and honesty of the Regatta Committee of the New York Yacht Club. I believe in the right of each man to make his own decision. I believe them to be gentlemen and yachtsmen, and I do not care to say anything more. You will see in my letter to Mr. Watson that also fulfilled his engagement to build me a boat."

"I do not expect that Mr. Isein will offer a ransom or any compensation whatever. While it is very certain that America's Cup is lost by reason of Valkyrie's racing showing, it is not so certain that at any rate the cup may not be carried across the Atlantic."

The decision of the New York Yacht Club, however, did not satisfy Mr. Isein, who believed that Defender made a heroic effort on Tuesday. "I do not think that the decision of the New York Yacht Club Regatta Committee is the final conclusion of the matter in hand. I do not agree with them."

FIGURES UNCHANGED.

Defender's Time Allowance Not Cut Down by the Remeasurement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—It was stated here during the morning that although the official figures were not obtainable, there was no change in the time allowances of 20.10 seconds which Valkyrie allows Defender. The Valkyrie had taken out a lot of ballast in hopes of overcoming this advantage of the American yacht, but it seems to have availed nothing.

Defender is said to have also lightened herself, and the re-measurement of the boats last night resulted in no gain for the Britisher.

THE COURSE.

A Few Fifteen Miles to Bowdoin and a Short Dash.

12:45.—The committee boat has signalled that the boats are to sail the straitaway course, which will be a run of fifteen miles to leeward, towards Long Beach, and back. The wind is now about west and blowing about six miles per hour. The race will be discontinued to fix the turning point. The course has been signalled as an "open" one.

Defender is said to have also lightened herself, and the re-measurement of the boats last night resulted in no gain for the Britisher.

WANTS A CLEAR COURSE.

Dunraven Complains of the Interference of Sailors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Herald says: Immediately after the race on Tuesday last, Lord Dunraven sent the following letter to the America's Cup Committee: It was made public last night:

Gentlemen—It is with great reluctance that I write to inform you that I decide to sail Valkyrie under my own command in the circumstances that have prevailed in the last two races and for the following reasons:

First—To attempt to sail two such large vessels as Valkyrie and the America's Cup Committee boat will be extremely dangerous, and I will not further risk the lives of my men or the ship.

Second—To attempt to sail Valkyrie or Defender the race may be declared off and sailed at some time and place known only to the committee.

"Whether there will be a race or not depends upon the captain of the pleasure craft, and I am not able to predict its duration after the most mature deliberation, and if at any time during the contest there is any overcrowding such as Long Beach, or any other place, I will not sail.

Defender the race may be declared off and sailed at some time and place known only to the committee.

"The position demanded that action must be taken at once or there will be no race, as I have said. I think I can speak as the representative of the America's Cup Committee, and if at any time during the contest there is any overcrowding such as Long Beach, or any other place, I will not sail.

"At the same time, I would testify to my belief that your committee have done everything in their power to prevent over-crowding.

The fact is, that when a contest between the representatives of two yacht clubs exists no such popular interest and attracts so many people as in the neighborhood of a great city and the date of the races and time of starting are known and advertised, it is impossible to sail a course free from danger, and to prevent all danger and clear enough to assure probability that the result of the match will be decided according to the legitimate merits of the competing vessels. I have the honor to remain your obedient servant,

DUNRAVEN.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The steamer John E. Moore, which will carry the browsers to see the yacht race to-day, will fly from its highest mast the American flag, and the stars and stripes of the United States.

Mr. J. D. Smith of the Cup Committee:

"Mr. J. D. Smith of the Cup Committee speaking unofficially, said:

"I have maintained the protest of the Defender against the Valkyrie, and consequently the race of the 10th is given to the Defender, under the rules of the America's Cup Committee."

Mr. Oliver Seelye, who had given his word to sail the race of Sept. 10, to which it replied it had no objection.

"Whatever else may be said, it was obviously the protest of the Defender against the Valkyrie, and consequently the race of the 10th is given to the Defender, under the rules of the America's Cup Committee."

The following is the letter of the Regatta Committee concerning the protest of C. O.

and intelligent young man and supported himself and his wife by teaching school. His wife was an interesting family of girls blessed the union of the colonists. Nine there were in all. Mr. Aird did his utmost to educate and educate is so costly.

Jane thrived best under her father's able tutelage, and finally entered school as far as possible before leaving Jamaica she held a responsible position as teacher in a school. About three years ago she married Mr. and Mrs. Aird.

Jane came to the conclusion education in Jamaica was too costly, and it was proved that the mother bring the girl to America, where she could get an education. One man covered with the fluid and burned alive.

BAD BURNS FOR THE OTHERS

Wreck and Explosion on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad that Proved Most Destructive.

GALESBURG, Ill., Sept. 12.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad had a peculiar bad wreck just east of Galva at 1 o'clock this morning. A west-bound train broke in two, and as the front part slowed up at the water tank the rear part ran into the front, causing a car of naptha to ignite. There were twelve cars of naptha and petroleum in the train, and all were soon ignited. The flames shot hundreds of feet high.

Three cars exploded with tremendous force. The house of Thomas Craver nearby was set fire and destroyed and Mr. and Mrs. Craver barely escaped with their lives.

Samuel Welch, twenty rods distant, a village drunkard, was covered with burning oil and forced to jump into a tank. Other men were badly but not fatally injured. The loss to the railroad company is $12,000.

Houses a quarter of a mile away were searched by the burning oil. C. O. Carlson, a locomotive fireman, was thrown from a tank and injured about the head. Oil cars were strewn along for half a mile. The accident was due to the tank being tilted over, poles down, ties burned, track blasted and the whole scene is one of ruin.

Three passenger trains collide on the Consolidated Road.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 12.—Two passenger trains on the Consolidated Road collided near Smith's Hill Bridge at 9:30 this morning. Several passengers were injured.

HOLMES, the Insurance Swindler, in Prison at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 12.—H. H. Holmes, the notorious murderer and swindler, was to-day indicted by the grand-jury for the murder of B. F. Pitesel, whose mysterious disappearance in 1887 and subsequent collection of $100,000 insurance on his life led to the unveiling of the latter's remarkable criminal record.

Holmes is now in prison here awaiting sentence for swindling the insurance company, to which charge he pleaded guilty, and is being held to stand trial for his grave offense. The District Attorney will press for a speedy trial in this city. Indictments for murder have also been filed against Holmes in Toronto, Indianapolis and Chicago.

STRIKERS TROUBLING.

MARSHAL GARRISON FIRES INTO THE AIR TO STOP THEIR ADVANCE.

ISHPENING, Mich., Sept. 12.—A mob of about 500 strikers surrounded a non-union mine from the Lake Argentile mine, who drew a revolver to protect himself. Marshal Garrison, who had been sent to stop the men, was pursued so closely that the Marshal fired two shots into the air. This intimidated the mob, and the men returned to the mine.

The pumps in section 21 of the Lake Argentile mine have been stopped and the mine is now closed. The mine is owned by Mr. Ernest H. Braatz, of Milwaukee, who is rapidly being flooded.

CAPITAL $26,000,000.

THE ORINOCO COMPANY'S PROJECT TO DEVELOP THE ONON CONCESSION.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 12.—Articles of incorporation of the Orinoco Company (capital $25,000,000) have been filed by Ellis Orinoco. The object is to develop the Onon concession granted by Venezuela to C. C. Orinoco, and to explore the delta of the Orinoco river.

The concession is said to include 14,000,000 acres of land in the delta of the Orinoco, Venezuela, and on the island called Coquimbo.

The incorporated partners will be: D. C. Corbin, Spokane; W. H. Lowell, New York; J. A. Bowman, New York; Wm. M. Nichols, New York; Francis H. Fairbank, Minn., and Ellis Orinoco, Seattle.

ANOTHER STREET RAILWAY CRIME.

A Fenderless Car Butchers 6-Year-Old Herbert Moll.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

Mr. Moll Saw the Iron Juggernaut Mangle and Kill His Little Child Before His Very Eyes.

Another fenderless motor car has done its murderous work. The life was crushed out of little Herbert Moll, the 6-year-old child of George Wilson, Moll, secretary of the St. Louis Clock and Silverware Co., living at 1800 Euclid avenue. The accident happened Wednesday evening at the corner of Euclid and Spalding avenues, where the little fellow had gone with his 11-year-old sister Mary to meet his poor father.

It was one of the most frightful fatalities that ever occurred in St. Louis. The little victim, juggernaut mangled and killed the boy before his father's eyes; and the latter was powerless to prevent it. The boy's chin hung over the track as the car struck him, knock him down, and drag him until scarcely a atom of life was left in the little boy, who then lay crumpled and bleeding between the rails.

For a moment the poor man stood as if transfixed, but only for a moment; for the shrieks of his little daughter, who had run up to the body, brought him to a full realization of the extent of his bereavement.

His boy was dead. He took the body in his arms and gazed into the pretty face in hopes that he might find some life, some hope, but there was none.

The shriek was so terrible that he tottered and would have fallen in the sidewalk but for the cries of little Mary, and he hurried himself for the ordeal and struggled home with the body. The boy was buried, lying at his feet, weeping as though her heart would break.

Neighbors who saw the almost distraught father, along with the bloody corpse in his arms were frightened at the ghastliness of the spectacle, and by the time he reached his home, the police and other kind hands were doing all in their power to comfort and console him.

The victim was killed by Car No. 6 of the Spalding avenue division of the Lindell Railway in charge of Conductor Bigelow, 106 Taylor avenue, and Motorman J. A. Dowd, 497 Drexel avenue. Mr. Moll alighted from a west bound car at Euclid avenue just as Car No. 6 was coming east. His two children, Herbert and George, came to meet him, and the moment the little boy saw his father he broke loose from his sister, who was holding him, and ran across the tracks. The boy fell on the track directly in front of Car No. 6, and was crushed to a shapeless mass almost instantly.

The boy was dragged and rolled for some distance, and the car passed completely over it. One leg was mashed and the entrails protruded from the victim's body. He lived until he was carried into the house.

Motoner Dowd says he ran his bell and slackened speed, but the boy ran, and the victim jumped on the track close in front of the motor that had it carried a fender—the child would have alighted on the fender of another car. He was as far from the car as possible as possible but Mr. Moll was already picking up the child from behind the car.

Supt. Hawthorn of the Lindell railway says the company has only been able to equip about half its cars with fenders to date, but will have all of them protected by Oct. 1. The work has been pushed as rapidly as possible.

The law providing that all street car companies in the city shall equip their cars with fenders is effective Sept. 1, and Oct. 1 is a penalty attaches for every failure. As yet only one company has entirely equipped its cars in this manner.

When the law becomes effective it will take in case the companies do not promptly comply with the law. Chief Barrigan replied.

I have not yet seen a copy of the law governing fenders, but if the law requires the companies to place fenders on all their cars this department will see that such is done. The law is good, and I hope it is not forgotten. It will be the duty of the fender and swear out a warrant."

THERE'S BALM IN GILEAD.

That Is, Cooler Temperature Is Confidentially Predicted for To-Night.

With eyes bedimmed by the dew of perspiration, a smelting community looked wistfully at thermometer all day. The ambitious mercury began climbing at daylight and for hours it bounded like a deer up a mountain side.

A ray of hope emanated from the Weather Bureau. Forecasters had predicted cooler weather for Thursday night. The falling of the temperature which should have begun Wednesday night was sidetracked for twenty-four hours in the Northwest.

A glance at the weather map showed only the results for the favorable forecast. The rain in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana has lowered the temperature and started Northern breezes this way. In the South, Mississippi, there was a light frost Wednesday night, the temperature of 44 degrees Thursday morning, a fall of 10 degrees in twenty-four hours. At Little Rock the temperature was 65 degrees; a fall of 16 degrees. At St. Paul the morning reading was 62 degrees, a drop of 14 degrees. Other Northwest cities and towns fall ranging from 10 to 15 degrees.

The official reading for St. Louis at 7 a.m. was 65 degrees. On the points the country were warmer at that hour and they are on the Gulf Coast. Chicago reported 68 degrees; Cal 74, and Kansas City 74.

BARBER MARTIN'S TONGUE.

It Brings a Sound Whipping from Two Women.

George E. Martin, a barber, was horsewhipped Tuesday on the main street of Fenton, fifteen miles southeast of the city, on the Gravois road, by Mrs. Louise Gauk, wife of the Fenton Hotel. Mrs. Gauk and her daughter, who accused Martin of circulating a story that they had him arrested in St. Louis recently for stealing a pair of shoes, giving their names as Mr. and Miss Brown. Tuesday Martin addressed Mrs. Gauk and daughter as Mrs. and Miss Brown. Each then got a whipping. Mrs. Gauk got a blow with the leather hand, which almost knocked him senseless. When mother and daughter relented Martin's face was a mass of bruisings. He had to go to the police. Martin got warrants for Mrs. Gauk and daughter in Kirkwood.

THERE IS NO PENALTY.

Defect in the Ordinance Governing Street Railway Obstructions.

Motorman George Brueggeman of the Benton and Bellefontaine Line stood up for the rights of the street car. Wednesday evening by having Frank Salisbury, colored brick wagon driver, arrested when he refused to turn off the tracks and allow a car to pass.

After showing the evidence in the Second District Police Court Thursday, Judge Stephenson said the ordinance had made provision for drivers to be fined for obstructing a railway, but he fined Salisbury $10 for disturbing the peace.

Salisbury lives at 484 Florissant avenue. Pooling with Morphine.

Joseph Bennett, a hotel keeper from Illinois, Mo., who has been receiving medical treatment in St. Louis, sought protection from the police Wednesday night. By accident he took too much and had a narrow escape from death. He is at the City Hospital.

IN A TRUSTEE'S HANDS.

Henry Seiter's Estate to Be Managed for His Creditors.

In the Madison County Circuit Court there was filed Thursday a deed of trust on all the property of Henry Seiter, the Lebanon banker who failed so disastrously last winter, after involving Rufus Ramsey, the late Treasurer of Illinois, so hopelessly in debt that the State stepped in to force him to sell his property for the benefit of certain creditors. The trustees are F. M. Blount, representative of the Chicago banking firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., which had loaned the money loaned by the Treasurer to Seiter; Charles Parsons, representative of the St. Louis firm of Parsons, Weston & Co.; and H. B. Weston, who was chosen by the other two to act on behalf of the creditors.

The new deed of trust will be filed in St. Clair County Friday.

When Charles Parsons, President of the State Bank, was seen he made this statement:

"The whole of Henry Seiter's property, saving what had been assigned to Wair for his creditors, has been taken by the three trustees. The bonds of the Chicago banks who were bondsmen for Ramsey and the St. Louis creditors of Seiter firstarily in the benefit of Seiter's other creditors secondarily."

The fear of the small depositors in Seiter's bank is along been realized. Some of them would have been cut out of their share in Seiter's division, but those who are manipulating this deal hold the majority of the stock of the new corporation.

POLICE HEADS TO BE CHOPPED OFF.

Commissioners to Make Sweeping Changes in the Department.

SHAKE-UP WILL BE GENERAL.

An Old Law That Commissioners Police Officers for Only Four Years to Be Enforced.

The greatest upheaval for nearly twenty years is threatening in the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department. There is not a wild and baseless rumor. The information on which the statement is founded is entirely trustworthy, because it is authoritative.

The shake-up will begin within the next thirty days and when it is over the municipality will be strown with police wrecks, ranging in rank from captain to patrolman.

It is stated on the best authority that the Police Commissioners are now quietly but energetically at work on the details of a revision of the law which will probably give St. Louis almost an entire new constabulary. The action of the Board Tuesday in dismissing from the service those patrollers for long-term appointments is the initial move in the sweeping change, and when the men learn it will find significance there will be a racing up among them from pair to pair to catch the bug.

The revision is going to be made in accordance with the law. The law creating the Board of Police Commissioners was enacted in 1881. It has never been revised of it. That law distinctly provides that every man on the force from Chief down to patrolman shall be appointed and compensated for a term of four years, and that when his commission expires he shall be "preferred" for re-appointment if his record shows him to be worthy. This provision has been utterly ignored for officers, or since the famous regime of the Lutz Board.

It has been that a great deal of "dead timber" has accumulated on the force by the "hold-over" process.

It is claimed by one of the present Commissioners that only one-fifth of the present force are wearing their stars as hold-overs. It is known positively that the other officers, including especially Chief Harrigan and Capt. O'Malley and Reynolds have been properly commissioned according to the rule contemplated by the law and that the same is true of all the few sergeants and patrolmen selected by this Board have been so commissioned.

The lead in this movement comes from the seven sergeants and the 120 policemen, including those detailed for special work, detectives and otherwise, subject to the severance of their services from the force in accordance with the strict and rigid enforcement of the four-year rule which the Commissioners propose to apply, and also Captains Keeble, McNamee, Jones, Kiley, Boyd and Campbell under the up-armed axe. It is stated, however, by one in a position to know, that part of the Board's intention, that none of these officers are liable to be disturbed when the purging process is started, unless after a pretty full investigation, no investigation of their records has been made by the Commissioners.

The members, though, will doubtless feel the full force of the proposed revision, though many of them directly affected will probably be let down easily by having their names mentioned to the Board. Up to the patrolmen, the outlook is entirely different, and every one of them against whom a charge of any nature has been preferred, will be given a hearing. The sergeants and their sergeants, will be subjected to the closest possible investigation and their records scrutinized as they never were before.

How many of them will go through the ordeal is, of course, wholly problematical, but scores of them will be shaking in their boots when they learn of the danger which threatens them.

It is understood that Chief Harrigan first directed the attention of the commissioners to the four-year provision. It is true of course, that all are roughly conversant with the law, but it had never occurred to any or the present members that one of the chief provisions of the act, which is one in which the safety of the safe-guard of the department in keeping out of it unfit material—had been absolutely imperative for nearly twenty years. This law, at different times, has been twice counted for. The members of each successive board have had friends on the force whose short-comings they have induced the commissioners to overlook, to overlook and excuse, and though Chief Harrigan and other officials have been known to prefer changes in the law, he has not done so openly. It has been assumed, in the pre-political phase, and a sufficient number of the commissioners were rallied to the support of the Captain, that a vote of all the members on account of intelligence and political affiliations to save him. It is true that the evidence brought out was not sufficient to sustain the Captain, but the presumption is fair that had the accused man not had a powerful friend or two in the Board sufficient of the charges would have been dropped. He was warranted, if not his decapitation, then at least a reduction of rank and emolument. In this case Captain Harrigan, though his legal persecutors, though he stood out firmly for the most rigid and impartial investigation.

This case is cited merely to show how men against whom charges are preferred have been protected in the positions by members of the Board. It is not unique among a large number of similar cases because it was given such prominence and publicity at the time that it will be readily recalled by the public. The history of this case is the history of scores of others of much graver kind. The charges against the Captain were disproved by his friends, and though the Captain was not said to be of numerous others. For prudential reasons, Chief Harrigan has submitted to the whitewashing process without reservation, and though he has been compelled to do so much of his confidence as he ever gives have known all along that the lax system was very irksome to him. There are few men in the country who are more familiar with the claims of the St. Louis Hospital and Deaconess' Home.

TOBACCO ABJURED.

Fifteen Young Men Entering the Illinois Ministry Promise Against It.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Sept. 12.—In the opening session of the Illinois Methodist Conference the first part of the session was devoted to hearing reports of presiding elders and then came the admission of fifteen young men to the ministry or deacons' orders. Bishop Moore made these a fatherly promise, quoting quite awhile by asking each one categorically if he had ever used tobacco and if he would solemnly promise to die before he was re-elected. They all assented. Dr. Bell, of Ohio, presented the cause of the Central Methodist Educational Institution at Washington. Dr. O. M. Stewart, of St. Louis spoke and Deacons' Home.

RAIDED A SALOON.

Three Young Toughs Caught in Drunken Revel.

William Enger, Edward Parker and Alf Weaver, three young Third District toughs effected an entrance into Herman Bergmann's saloon, 2019 Franklin avenue, by climbing over an open transom. They helped themselves plentifully to the stock of liquors and were making arrangements to lay in a supply for future use when Officer John Egan, 2019 Franklin, burst in the place. He summoned Officers Duggan and Egan to his assistance. The boys made a show of fight, but a few cracks exchanged from the officers and the boys fled. The boys were summoned to the police station.

When the clearing-out process begins the Commissioners will have a long list of professionals to choose from, with which to fill the vacancies. The list will be compiled by dropping the unfit and inefficient old men.

According to Local Law.

Mrs. T. H. Staines of 315 North street dropped her purse containing $100 on Olive street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, Wednesday. An unknown man seized it and hastened a passing car.

VETERANS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Encampment Session to Elect Officers and Select Meeting Place.

ADDRESS BY WATTERSON.

Commander-in-Chief Lawler Follows With a Speech to His Old Comrades in Arms.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 12.—The demonstration of the line of parade being over, the twenty-ninth annual encampment began its session at 10 a. m. to-day; also the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies' Circle of the G. A. R. These meetings were attended only by delegates. Meantime the veterans met in corps, brigades and regimental reunions all over the city. The camp fires, with fireworks and other demonstrations, continued every night during the week, elaborate processions, parades and receptions, being announced up to Saturday night. The army nurses were entertained to-day, and the Daughters of Veterans gave a brilliant reception to G. A. R. veterans and other visitors.

There were eighteen marching veterans and dozens of others prostrated yesterday. All are now reported doing well, but it was hotter than ever to-day. Instead of visitors leaving to-day the railroads say they are coming for the fireworks to-night, the barbecue to-morrow and other events. The men of the G. A. R. and veterans of the war were visited by thousands to-day. As many from here to the encampment of the Sons of Veterans at Knoxville, the National Park at Chattanooga and Chickamauga, and to the Atlanta Exposition, the tide will move further South next week instead of northward.

ENCAMPMENT MEETS.

Addressed by Henry Watterson and Commander in Chief Lawler.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 12.—By far the most interesting feature of the week began to-day at 10 o'clock in Music Hall. It was the session of the twenty-ninth National Encampment for the election of executives and commandants officers for the ensuing year and to decide upon a place of meeting for the next year. The hall has a seating capacity of 3,250 and every seat in it was occupied. None but G. A. R. men and accented delegates were admitted to the hall. The delegates entitled to vote in the meeting occupied the main floor, while the visiting veterans sat in the galleries. The session, considerably delayed and it was nearly 11 o'clock when the delegates were all at their posts. General Lawler, Commander-in-Chief, was loudly cheered. As soon as quiet was restored he formally called the meeting to order. He said that this was the first national meeting of the A. R. V. at the Ohio River. The Executive Committee had changed the usual programme. The citizens of Louisville desired him to give expression of their thanks in having the honor of entertaining the boys in blue. "You will be glad to know," he continued, "that the man who gave me the idea of this meeting is a citizen of the city, Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal." At the mention of Mr. Watterson's name there was an outburst of applause.

WELCOMED BY WATTERSON.
War Ended Thirty Years Ago and Only Good Feeling Prevails.

Col. Watterson welcomed the veterans in the following speech:

"That promissory note, drawn by the city of Louisville, indorsed by me and discounted by you in the city of Pittsburgh a year ago, has matured, and I am come to pay it.

"Except that historic distinctions have long been obliterated here, it might be mentioned that we expect better things. The remembrance of all those who wore the gray and of those who wore the blue in that great sectional combat, which, whatever may be the verdict of history, left a stain upon American soldiery, no stain upon American manhood. But in Kentucky the war ended thirty years ago.

"At least the lesson has been taught and learned that "You cannot chain the eagle,

And you cannot bind the dove;

"But every gate,
Hath bars to hate,

"Will open wide to love."

"A flag,

"God bless the flag. Can you doubt the loyal sincerity of those who from house to roof have given up their all for the cause? Some sacrifices have been made to haul it down and see. These are honest flags with honest hearts behind them. That is why we have a right to demand of a nationality as precious to us as to you.

"And why not?

"What is left for you and me to do? We have left to fight about? Slavery is gone. Secession is dead. The Union, with its system of Statehood and State autonomy, is still with us, with a kind of satisfaction. It is still open with the gates of this gateway to the world; but you welcome in the name of the people who voted for the Union. God! You came and you rested; you come and we greet you; for times change and you change with them. You will find here a right of being, a right not to be reminded of its passions. Grin visaged war has smoothed his wrinkled front, and you shall encounter as you pass those modern heaves, which remind you of your valor and travail, only the magnanimous spirit of dead heroes, with Grant and Sherman.

SO CAME "THE DRAGON."

Rosine's Romance, After Which All Should Have Lived Happily.

When Miss Magnolia carefully withdrew the dress from the great cedar trunk, which unspun the old damask tablecloth, it unfolded itself and spread out its shining folds for the admiration of her niece, Rosine, that young lady clasped her pretty hands and quoted Keats:

"Beauty is a joy forever."

Miss Magnolia nodded and smiled. She was small and round and brown as a maiden lady of a decidedly certain age could be. Her hair, which had been up in two specimens once, was a warm and sensitive organ still. And she took a deal of interest in Rosine's romance.

"Yes, my dear, it is a thing of beauty, and to think that I wore it but twice. Dear, dear!"

"You have lover, auntie?" inquired Rosine.

"Yes, my pet. That was one of the dresses I got for my marriage. But he was away on business all the time, so you can't imagine how bad he was not that the old gentleman had always been very kind to him—had, man and Thomas and McPherson and Logan looking down from the happy stars as if repeating the words of the master, 'Charity for all men to live.'

Mr. Watterson was frequently and loudly applauded during the course of his speech, and Commander-in-Chief William Warner of Kansas City, Mo., spoke briefly.

When he had done talking Commander-in-Chief James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, WHITCOMB RILEY'S POEM.

"A Peace Hymn of the Republic" Read by Him.

James Whitcomb Riley read the following poem:

A PEACE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC.

There's a voice across the Nation-like a mighty ocean half

Born in the south land as the seas before the gale;

Its breath is in the streaming fog and in the flying gale;

As we go sailing on.

It's a voice that we remember—ere its day;

When it rang in battle challenge, and we answered vow with vow;

With roar of gun and hiss of sword and crack of gun;

As we went sailing on.

Our hope sank even as we saw the sun sink faint and fast;

The ship of state went groping through the blinding smoke of war;

Through the burning, through the lurching, all uncheered of moon or star;

Yet sailing—sailing on.

As one who speaks the dead awake, with life-blood leaping warm, with Who walked the troubled waters, all unshamed of mortal form,

We feel our pilot presence, with his hand upon the storm;

And we went sailing on.

O voice of passion lulled to peace, this dawning of to-day—

O voice twin-blast as one, yet singing since toe and toe are friends, and Lo, the Lord is glad as they—

He sends us sailing on.

Following this Past Commander Gen. John Palmer of Albany was presented with a solid silver tea set as a token of the veterans' regard.

Judge Coccaro formally presented the token. In accepting the present, Gen. Palmer spoke feelingly.

As soon as the preliminary programmes were over Col. George A. R. to withdraw from the hall, as it was to be a formal ceremony. General Lawler sent for the Rev. H. H. Hargrave, the National Chaplain of St. Louis, to invoke the blessing of the Deity.

General Lawler then delivered his annual address.

COMMANDER LAWLER'S ADDRESS

Before Comrades of the Twenty-Ninth National Encampment.

I take pleasure in calling to order the Twenty-ninth National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. We meet for the first time south of the Ohio River, in this beautiful city of Louisville, not as we did forty-four years ago—then we were ordered here, but now we come because we are invited by all its citizens to do so. We are here to pay our respects to the old and loyal welcome to old Kentucky and the New South. What memories of the past reign before us, we stand here and think of the great men born here. But the one whose memory is honored most by the people of this great Republic is the name of our own General, the good and gallant Andrew Jackson, whom we honor and respect.

Col. Watterson was frequently interrupted by the cheering of the crowd, concluding the huge building fairly shook with the demonstration.

Gen. Lawler, Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., after having introduced, responded on behalf of the veterans.

The total number of corps is 119,776, or 1,000 more than over 100,000 in the report as 2,141, or a net gain of 77 during the year. The amount expended in the year including relief and current expenses was $18,239, while the total amount of money furnished, since its organization in 1861, was $1,200,000.

Regarding the National Woman's Relief Corps Home at Madison the report states: "The home, which is a fine residence, has died of the disease of the heart, and the last sacrifice has been raised to haul it down and see. These are honest flags with honest hearts behind them. That is why we have a right to demand of a nationality as precious to us as to you.

FITZ IS TOYING WITH LIGHTNING.

The Red-Headed New Zealander Dosing Himself With Electricity.

NOT AFRAID OF CORBETT.

The Swengal Trick May Result in Jim Getting His Head Punched Off.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Bob Fitzsimmons took a small dose of static electricity yesterday afternoon. He has taken many doses before, but he will not indulge again until after the big fight, for the New Zealander expects to leave for his training quarters in Texas early next week.

Fitzsimmons looks remarkably well. He weighs 165 pounds stripped. This is more than he weighed when training last year, as he can remember. He always tries to think that the purse is already in his pocket, and, indeed, has picked out the picture of himself which he wants K. Fox to have carved in the new diamond championship belt.

"There is one thing Corbett may rest assured of," Bob remarked with great emphasis. "I and the Jim won't be scared when I am up against him." Jim is the name of his Svengal business. It knock's his head off. He knows I ain't a bit afraid of him. I am not afraid of him. He has been a little nervous before I fought Peter Maher. They kept writing me letters that his left hand was sure death and his right dead. I told them, 'Don't worry, Jim. You're afraid to fight him. I naturally figured him a wonder. I took a couple of drunks of whisky before I went into the ring. The drunks up standed me in time I won't need any stimulants, for I am onto Corbett's methods.'

Bob is a fighter in style. A special car will carry him over the Southern Railway to New Orleans, and over the Southern Pacific from there. He has not yet selected a trainer, but Goldie, the White of Corleas' Hock is likely to get the job if he looks for it.

W. A. Brady who manages Corbett, and nearly a dozen theatrical companies, and he is too busy just now to pay any attention to the stories which have been freely circulated about the champion fighter's alleged refusal to train.

Track Talk.

Dago is carded to start to day, and Col. John D. Jenkins will, no doubt, be down from Chicago to back him.

After winning six consecutive races Dago, the track performer, Charlie McDonald, met his Waterloo in the fourth race Wednesday.

Col. Jack Gillen will do his best at the Fair Grounds Saturday, which opens November 11, and will continue twelve days.

August Belmont's $37,000, 2-year-old Gold August Belmont's is believed to be suffering from a bone spur.

Gus Muller, a wealthy Philadelphia brewer, has leased the half-mile track at Elkhorn.

Hector Dwyer's speedy 5-year-old Harry Reed, who was racing in England early in the season, won his first race since he was brought back to America at the Sheepshed.

H. P. McDonald's stable, consisting of Madeline, White Wings and four others, has returned to the Fair Grounds from the West.

Billy Sullivan bet $500 on Nicholas, while Pat Carmody had $300 on Kiley's colt Jockey Lee. Tum, who rode Nicholas, also bet $500 on his horse.

John Schorr, the wealthy Memphis brewer, who has an interest in J. E. Cushing's horses, has a number of jockeys who ride for him.

The big draw up stands again this time to look a good bet on Empress.

He got some of it back on John McHale, however.

McHale, a jockey Billy Sullivan, who has a bet on every race, and generally knows how and why his money is won or lost, says that Garner and Slaughter give him better satisfaction than any other jockeys that have rode here this season.

WHEELMEN'S NIGHT.

All Cyclists Are Invited to the Exposition This Evening.

Chief Consul Holm has sent out the following circular to all wheelmen:

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16, 1895.

Thursday, Sept. 16, has been designated as Wheelmen's Night at the Exposition, and all the cycling clubs in the city are cordially invited to present in full cycling costume with their wheels. The Sprinkling Superintendent Mr. M. D. Strait will do his best to provide a grand display of fireworks.

Wheels should be left at the Olive street front in charge of Mr. C. A. Rolfe, who will check and take care of them for 15 cents each.

On entering the building proceed to the A. W. headquarters, located in the close room on Olive street, and show enclosed card, properly filled out, with your name and address and you will obtain a League badge, provided you are a member of the same. No badge will be issued to the long-panted brigade. Recollect that this is Wheelmen's Night, and we can only be distinguished by our costume.

All non-club members residing on the South Side are requested to assemble at the South Side Cycle Club, 275 Lafayette avenue, by 8 o'clock, and remain there until 11 p. m.

Each will make a stroll to all the bicycle exhibits in the building, where special souvenirs will be distributed.

After viewing the exhibits the men will have a few rounds of beer, whistles, horns or other noise producers at home, and while you want to enjoy yourself, don't let us mar the enjoyment of others.

ROBERT HOLM,
Chief Consul.

THE CENTURY RECORD.

Ross Miller Will Go for It on the Pastime Track.

Bert Hardin is not the only St. Louis boy who is to make a run for it for the 10-mile record, as Ross Miller will also take a shot at it in the near future.

Miller holds the 10-mile road record of Missouri and has broken up one of the records of the most noted riders in the city. He will go into training shortly to prepare for his effort, which will be made in the Fall.

After securing his badge at Music Hall and take chairs reserved for wheelmen, Soules will entertain you with a speech when the race begins.

This will be followed by an exhibition of fancy trick riding on the stage by Mr. Harry Gordon and by Master Arnold H. Jr.

After this is over take a stroll to all the bicycle exhibits in the building, where special souvenirs will be distributed.

After this is over take a stroll to all the bicycle exhibits in the building, where special souvenirs will be distributed.

GETTING READY FOR THE BALL

Distance of the Veiled Prophet's Festival Not Too Great to Bar Consideration of Costumes.

It is refreshing to meet so many of our returned summer tourists upon the streets these days. And they all seem so refreshed by their summer outing and so glad to be back. Hot as it is they are thronging the shops, and the "openings" are being well attended. The ball of the Veiled Prophet, though almost a month off is receiving considerable thought, and ball dresses for that date are already in the making.

The season for weddings has also commenced again, and society will be kept busy with the numerous fashionable unions which are to be made in the next few weeks.

There were several important weddings Wednesday, the largest being that of Miss William Landau and Mr. Joseph Landau.

The United Press' train was crowded to its utmost capacity, and there was a line of carriages as far as the eye could see representing the wealth and fashion of Jewish citizens in this city. The bride, a charming young girl, looked like a queen in her golden gown of heavy ivory-tinted satin, a long train sweeping behind, a row of pearls covering the bodice, fastened by a magnificent diamond and pearl ornament. She carried a bib-like bound with white satin. The bridesmaids, all of whom were dressed in white, had white and pink, and two little flower girls carried baskets of roses which they strewed in the pathway of the bride, a line of page boys in white suits dropping rose petals along ring upon a cushion of carmine and roses. After the ceremony, which was performed by the bride's father, Dr. H. J. Messing, pastor of First Congregational church, and her uncle, Rev. Dr. A. J. Messing, from Chicago, a large reception took place at Jacob Maher's Assembly Rooms, where a banquet was served later in the evening.

This was one of the most brilliant weddings that will take place this season, and a large number of strangers were present from adjoining towns and cities.

Post-Dispatch Want Ads.

The following letter from an advertiser in the Post-Dispatch shows forcibly the difference in results from an ad placed in the Want Columns of a paper which is making frantic efforts to produce a showing by a fake lottery and guessing scheme, and one placed in the Post-Dispatch, which publishes only legitimate Want Ads, needs no shams to bolster its business, and is the recognized Want Medium of St. Louis. Hence, people seeking legitimate business advertise in and read Post-Dispatch Want Columns:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 8th, 1895.

Dear Sirs—I placed a Want "Ad" in the "Republic" and did not receive a single application in answer to it. The same "ad" was placed in the "Post-Dispatch" and brought me sixty-two applications. Sixteen of these were received only after the paper was issued. This shows the value of your paper as an advertising medium. Yours truly,

F. J. HALBRUGGER & SONS,

Percheo F. Halbrugger.

No. 3200 Park Avenue.

EGAN SLEPT SOUNDLY.

Went to the Window and Fell Out, But Never Awoke.

Thomas Egan secured a room at 21 South Seventh street Wednesday night and went to sleep. He awoke at 7 o'clock Thursday at the City Hospital with a badly injured spine and a sprained ankle. Egan was found in a stupor on the rear platform of the building at 21 South Seventh street.
He had fallen from the window of his room on the third floor. At the City Hospital Egan stated he had the same dream before falling, having gone to bed. He believed he must have gone to the window for fresh air.

Arrest of a Man Supposed to Have Robbed the Franklin Post-Office.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Sept. 12.—Frank Cramer, a notorious character, was arrested in this city Tuesday night on a trivial charge and placed in the city prison. Yesterday he was fined $20 and costs, and not being able to pay the fine, was remanded to prison. On being searched some startling developments were made which may lead to the discovery of the man who burglarized the Post-office at Franklin, Mo., on the night of Aug. 14, 1885. On his person were found 136 1 cent postage stamps, 36 1 cent stamps and 1 10-cent stamp.

Post-office Inspector Johnson of St. Louis official at Franklin, and they are expected to arrive here to-day. It is believed that the man who robbed the Post-office in Hannibal, Mo., three years ago, and two terms in Kansas and one term in Missouri. He was released from the State Penitentiary about two years ago. He goes under an assumed name.

MINE INSPECTORS.

Seven to Be Appointed by the Governor of Illinois.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 12.—The State Mining Commission met this morning in the Senate Chamber at the State House for the purpose of examining applicants for State Mine Inspectors, seven of whom are to be appointed by the Governor. Eighteen candidates were registered, and after written examinations this afternoon and oral examination tomorrow those examined will be named Saturday.

City Hall Fireproofing.

Water Commissioner Holman and Harbor
Commissioner Stone began an investigation of the fire proofing material of the new City Hall. Thursday. In the meantime the contractor, Frank Peabody, who was the only bidder, has suspended work. The investigation has disclosed a decided discrepancy
in the number of pieces to be delivered
which should run several pieces, but the
contractor has said nothing.

Water Commissioner Holman and Harbor
Commissioner Stone began an investigation
of the fire proofing material of the new City Hall. Thursday. In the meantime the contractor, Frank Peabody, who was the only bidder, has suspended work. The
investigation has disclosed a decided discrepancy
in the number of pieces to be delivered
which should run several pieces, but the
contractor has said nothing.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS.

Edward Foley Held for the Shooting of Emma Schoening.

CORONER Wall held an inquest Thursday on the body of Emma Schoening, who was shot in the abdomen Tuesday afternoon
by Edward Foley.

Several witnesses testified that they saw the boy shoot at the dog, but did not see the girl shoot until she ran screaming into the house. The jury returned a verdict that Foley was guilty of criminal carelessness.
He was turned over to the police.

WILL NOT GO ALONE.

John Hodges Will Take a Bride With Him on His Northern Trip.

John Mod Holman, son of Dr. H. H.
Holman, and Miss Charlotte Cantwell, daughter of J. J. Cantwell, 421 West Pine boulevard, "sprang" a surprise on their parents and friends by the announcement of their marriage, which will take place at the home of the young lady at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

John Mudd is a law student and has been engaged to Miss Cantwell for several years. Owing to the extreme youth of the couple, however, the parents were unable to let the young people go through with their marriage until the suggestion of their parents. Recently Mr. Hodges has had a severe case of typhoid fever and will remain at home for a month to recuperate necessity it being deemed best for him to do so. The young couple will not return until the end of October, when Mr. Hodges will enter his senior year at the St. Louis Law School.
